Vendors

Jennifer Trauman

The Executive Council was asked to review the letter from Jennifer Trauman on following letter regarding conference vendors.

Howard,

It was great speaking with you on Monday! Thanks again for your openness to present a vendor option for the NYSFAAAA Virtual Conference to Exec Council. I know you have been an advocate for vendor participation for some time, and that it’s not always easy given what New York FAA’s may have experienced over the years. I would be happy for you to share my thoughts with Exec Council, from me, both a representative of College Ave and more importantly, a long-standing loyal NYSFAAAA member.

Below this letter I have outlined ways in which vendors can be utilized in a virtual conference environment. I’m happy to discuss these with you first or for you to present them to Exec Council. Whatever you feel is best. Thanks again!

To the members of NYSFAAAA Exec Council,

I write to you as both a representative of College Ave and more importantly, a long-standing loyal NYSFAAAA member, to ask that you consider including vendor sponsorship and participation in the upcoming NYSFAAAA Virtual Conference.

Vendors serve several roles as NYSFAAAA members and sponsors. In addition to serving on Exec Council and in committee leadership and membership roles, vendors act as trusted advisors, contribute to vital administrative efficiencies in your offices and offer broad local and national perspectives.
As trusted advisors, we consistently educate members about the products and services we offer and provide vital updates to help mitigate risks and avoid mistakes based on misinformation. We are also eager to share our industry knowledge to support and help you better serve your students. The face-to-face, or in this instance virtual, connections we all make at conferences, are our best opportunities to serve as the foundation for future communications throughout the year.

Relationships between vendors (lender and otherwise) with financial aid administrators create open communications to ensure better compliance in the management of private student loans at their schools and optimal performance in their roles, thus creating efficiencies in your offices. These relationships often start at the conference and for those we’ve known for many years, are strengthened by our in-person (virtual) interactions.

Because vendors serve you and your colleagues on a national level, we bring a broad perspective to our relationships, as we (and members of our teams) speak with schools daily all across the country. Many vendors also have both school and vendor experience, which contributes to an even broader view. We consistently seek out ways to distribute our knowledge and connect members with colleagues near and far who can share both their successes and challenges. Contact with members through the conference is our best way to share this perspective and further contributes to the creation of complex administrative efficiencies in your offices.

Lastly, vendor sponsorship can offer a much needed revenue stream to the organization. Sadly, NYSFAAA membership is down this year and as we approach the renewal period, current members may be faced with budget cuts that won’t allow for renewal, leading to financial loss for the organization. Vendor sponsorship can help mitigate some of that loss.

In light of what I’ve written above, I recently developed and facilitated a panel session at CAPFAA in December, entitled, “A Win-Win - How To Develop Mutually Beneficial Vendor Relationships.” This panel, which consisted of financial aid administrators and vendor representatives, was very well received. We were selected to present again at NJASF/AA, EASF/AA, and RIASFAA and while those conference have been cancelled due to COVID-19, we will be delivering the session virtually to the New Jersey and Rhode Island memberships in the coming weeks.

I hope that you will consider including vendors (and our sponsorships) in the upcoming Virtual NYSFAAA Conference. I would be happy to discuss ways in which we can participate.

Thank you in advance for your consideration,
Jennifer Trauman
Head of Campus Development – Northeast
College Ave Student Loans

A discussion ensued where Jennifer reported to the Executive Council that she has had conversations with vendors and others holding virtual conference. Vendors expressed a desire to hold ‘live” sessions with conference participant to leverage live interaction with attendees. Perhaps a collaboration with SWT could help given the importance of personal interaction with attendees. Concerns were expressed in this area.

Additional comments and concerns were discussed including loss of sponsorships, time and format constraints, compliance with SLATE, and ideas for providing time and format for vendors to present their products to the NYSFAAA Community using a “Vendor Booth” or YouTube links to prerecorded presentation, perhaps on the days immediately following the Conference.

Howard Leslie indicated that the Conference App was canceled for this year.

A discussion was held on concepts for handling vendor fees with the goal of driving revenue and membership as done every year, just in a virtual format. It is important to make it clear that NYSFAAA is making the vendor information available to the membership.

Jennifer and Jeanne will work on a proposal to be reviewed at the August Executive Council meeting.

MOTION: A motion was made by Anne Sullivan Polino, seconded by Lea Nuwer to have business partners make a donation, amount to be determined, for participation in the virtual conference. This motion is contingent on acceptance of a final plan for vendor participation.

The motion passed with 13 in favor, no opposition and no abstentions.
Howard Leslie attended a meeting with NASFAA leaders to discuss NYSFAAA’s virtual training. See notes on NASFAA Credentialing under the Budget section of these Minutes.

Howard Leslie provided an update from the EASFAA June Retreat. A copy of the agenda items from this retreat and related comments is located in the Exhibit section of this document.

Howard thanked the Regions for continuing to hold regional meetings during the pandemic. He plans to attend Regions 1 and 6 meetings scheduled for June 18, 2020 and reminder other Regional Chair to invite him to their upcoming meetings. These meetings can be held via GO TO MEETING or Zoom.

Howard, Anne Sullivan Polino and Joe Weglarz attended the recent NYSED meeting where the following topics were discussed:

Foreign High School Credential Committee – A working group has been formed to review possible updates to the State’s regulations on Foreign High School Credentials. Howard serves as Chairman of the Committee with Anne as a participating member.

The Committee is charged with discussing the acceptability of foreign high school and college transcripts, considerations tied to evaluations and translation services, etc.

Additional updates from the NYSED Meeting included discussions on dual majors and possible adjustments to state regulations allowing the acceptance of unofficial high school documentation during the pandemic. The State and HESC are working on this issue but only the Governor can make a final decision on this type of change.

William Murphy and Leslie Templeman attended an Association of Proprietary Colleges meeting where the issue schools are having with obtaining high school documentation was discussed and acknowledged that they are aware of the concerns in this area.

NYSFAAAA also conducted a survey on this topic and NASFAA is asking ED for certain safe harbor rules allowing accommodations to schools during this crisis.

Howard reminded the Council Members and school in general that the recently published CARES Act Timeline should be part of your policy and procedures to provide support for the schools’ CARES Act/HEERF policies and actions.

- Diversity and Inclusion
- COVID 19/State of Emergency

Howard Leslie recommended moving these topics into Policy and Procedure and the Best Procedures where appropriate.

Jacquelyn reported that states are more productive than the federal government with the enactment of 90% of state bills introduced compared to 55% at the federal level.

She also indicated that the states often drive federal policy.

Budget discussions are high priority.

Jacquelyn also indicated that NYSFAAA because the state organizations are the eyes and ears because of the personalized connections.

She also indicated that it is important to keep it 1) local, 2) personal, 3) their position in mind, 4) factual and 5) brief.

Finally Jacquelyn indicated that NASFAA can assist with training and is working on a State Tool Kit.

Donna Gurnett and Christopher Barto also discussed the need for NYSFAAA to provide a communication for the Governor on budget cuts that could be as high as #13 billion depending on how much federal stimulus aid is received.
With the agreement of the Executive Council, Christopher will connect with Jacquelyn for advice on how to develop a plan for outreach and advocacy. The Executive Council will approve all documents before distribution. We need to put students first.

The plan to go back to work is that if you can go back, you will go back in June, if not, you will continue to work from home.

Additional information is located in the Exhibit Section of this document.
MOTION: A motion was made by Adrienne King, seconded by Debra Evans to accept the Treasurer’s Report.

The motion passed with 13 in favor, no opposition and no abstentions.

Budget Meeting

Howard Leslie began the Budget Meeting by indicating that the EASFAA budget was positive and suggesting that EASFAA add a “COVID Contingency Budget”. This suggestion was accepted by EASFAA.

Membership Annual Dues will remain the same as many schools have cut their budgets which could lead to a decrease in membership dues for NYSFAAA. Other schools may decrease training and travel budgets but allow NYSFAAA dues to continue for the value provided through NYSFAAA training.

It was reported that NYSFAAA lost 254 members last year (215 active, 10 affiliate, 23 associate, 6 retirees).

The Revenue number should be adjusted by $75,000 to reflect the current budget environment.

Traditionally, the Annual Conference is budgeted at breakeven. The adjustments made to the conference structure and schedule will likely have an impact on the budget.
Novice sent a budget request. The deposit for the 2020 event will be moved to prepaid expenses.

A discussion on scholarships indicated that given the virtual conference environment, scholarships will be a challenge this year that may make it difficult to reach the $7,500 needed to cover scholarship disbursements this year. Scholarships will also be impacted by the loss of vendor support.

NASFAA is aware of the cancelation of the NYSFAAA Annual Conference and will make a decision in August how to handle the Credentialing program given restrictions tied to the national pandemic such as limits on the number of people allowed in a meeting room. It is expected that NYSFAAA will provide NASFAA a list of participants who will sit for the exams.

The Executive Council worked through the requests for additional funding and all budget expense lines to arrive at a balanced budget.

MOTION: A motion was made by Patti Donahue, seconded by Debra Evans to deny a $2,250 request from Region 2 and encourage remote delivery of training.

The motion passed with 11 in favor, no opposition and 2 abstentions.

   - Support Staff Workshop – 09/27/20
     - 29 attendees. 6 were members. Gandhi Institute presented in morning. UR counselor presented on mindfulness in workplace. Great feedback overall. Participants encouraged. Letters to directors sent to encourage participation. Not great turnout based on number of local colleges. $1000 budget used, $230 recouped from non-members. We will keep doing it and allowing non-members to participate.
   - FAFSA Fest – (Comments as of 11/15/20)
     - Thus far we have had four fall FAFSA Fests serving about 150 students. Numbers seem to be slightly down compared to prior years. Technology challenges have existed at most events: TAP link broken, pop-up blockers, printers, TAP student ID numbers and signatures, eligible non-citizen number entry (needed to use mobile app).

   During a recent NYSFAAA virtual happy hour, Maximo Flint-Morgan, Chair of Region 3, asked if Howard, as the President of NYSFAAA, would be willing to send out a statement to the membership on the following: stand with the black community in support of race and equality during this moment in time where there is a global outcry for change. Howard/I agreed to bring this forward to EC to discuss and if approved, send out a statement. Other action items include:

   - Name a new Diversity Chair and enhance Diversity and Inclusion Committee
   - A string of Diversity & Inclusion themed webinars in lieu of the conference 2020; at least 10 (2 per day).
   - Communication plan that engages the membership on this issue for the next year, that includes polls, and engagement/input from Diversity Committee, so we are actually doing something about it, not just talking about it.
